

THE MONITOR

Vol. 2, no. 1

February 1978

HEAR YE! HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Monitor's first potluck dinner of the year! On meeting night, February 3 - 6:30 p.m.!! Don't miss our "kickoff" with our new officers.

Lillian Stafford says: "Bring your own plates and flatware. The Lodge will furnish cups and napkins".

So that we have variety and balance please bring your part of the potluck according to the first letter of your last name:

A through N - bring a hot main course dish (casserole, etc.) enough to serve 6 to 8 people.

O through Z - bring a salad (tossed green, fruit, jello, vegetable, etc.) enough to serve 6 to 8 people.

Singles and ladies who work, please call either Lillian Stafford (487-4201) or Mary Anderson (922-6334) for suggested alternative food items.

8:00 p.m. SHARP: business meeting.

9:30 p.m. (or sooner): Swedish Bingo and card games.

PERSONALS

Monitor Lodge was pleased to have Lars Njord back for our January meeting after an extended illness. Keep up the good work, Lars!

Ruth Veis is around and about these days with cans of tasty morsels which she says are scrumptious! The District has undertaken their sale to secure funding for hosting official Scandinavian visitors in northern California when they arrive. A Great Project. Let's all help by buying a can or more of these candies.

Eleanor and Ken Vine are representing Monitor on the Camellia Festival Planning Committee. We know they'll do a great job and keep us all posted on the goings on. Ruth Veis will be in charge of our Ethnic Display during the Camellia Festival, March 4 and 5. Ruth has asked all those with authentic Swedish folk costumes or items of wearing apparel to please let her know (489-5729) and plan to model it or otherwise display it at our booth this year. For those who have not attended any of the past Ethnic Displays of the Camellia Festival, Monitor's contribution will be one of the best of several excellent displays.

ATTENTION

Monitor Scholarship applications must be in by March 1, 1978 to qualify for the 1978 awards. The applicant may be either the child or grandchild of a member of Monitor, and who may be enrolling in any bonafide education beyond high school. For application forms contact Eleanor Vine at 489-2977.
